Giancarlo Hi!

There was never a doubt from our side about your intentions.

From our experience since in effect we are both manufacturer\suppliers of technology we are in essence competitors, very difficult to find a way to maintain a relationship.

As you must know we are in same niche market that is usually based on trust and therefor our reputation is first and foremost. Our first responsibilities lay with our existing partner and distribution network, which we must guard.

Option 1 is feasible only if you are prepared to supply to customers as a sub distributor black box technology which you do not own, have no deal understanding of the IP or maintain.

Knowing our suppliers they are happy to and some of them do use sub suppliers to get to new customers.

Option 2 is really more of a partnership, and that why the initial cost are high.

We are always open to try new things but only if they are feasible and have a real future.

Best,

Nir Levy (Max)

Dear Max,

sorry for my late reply and thank you for you message, at least you were able to verify that our interest is genuine and it is coming from our clients. As i mentioned, we are willing to evaluate a partnership with you even if I personally consider option n.1 unfeasible since we generally act as main contractor and for our clients might be difficult to enter into separate agreement.

The 2 options is interesting even if at the moment is not matching our investment opportunities. I will discuss internally and be back to you as soon as possible.

In the meanwhile, I will pass your contact to additional 2 clients that showed an interest in your tool,

Giancarlo

Giancarlo Hi!

I see you are very persistent, we take it as a complement to our product.

We have had a connection from Zurich police telling us that you wish to integrate our product in one of yours.

I just realized that you might not know much about our product and therefore even following our previous explanation still feel there is something to pursue.

The unlocker is a self-contained sealed and secure hand held unit that does one thing and one thing only, bypasses windows passwords and gives system rights on the locked live PC

If the unit senses any attempt physical or digital to undermine\hack\ its integrity it will brick itself and render it useless, we do not unbrick units, this is our way to protect our IP.

Now there are 2 ways you can integrate our unit in your system:

1. If your system is a collection of standalone tools and you want to add our unit as part of your offering, then you will have to contact our local distributor in the specific country you are dealing with and if you can prove to him end user he can supply the units to the end user. You will also have to work out with him your commission, and it is his prerogative if he wants to enter such deal, in past it was tried but shot price upwards that was not viable. In any case as I explain before you will not have any way to test or touch or any say in unit warranty.
2. If you are looking to add our ability as OEM on your system, this means we have to share our IP with you, that is possible but price for unlimited use is US$ 4M, but you will also have to convince and assure us that no one else but you will have access to our IP.

I am sorry if we sound unfriendly, or uncooperative, but you as someone in this business will appreciate and understand our need to protect our investment and IP

Best,

No letter or any other form of communication will allow us to work with you directly.

The only way the LEA you are talking about will get a unit is if they buy direct from our official distributor.

Even if they buy the unit from our distributor they will not be allowed to pass it on to anybody else for whatever reason without our consent.

What if our clients will prepare a letter to you asking for our intermediation in the evaluation process?

As you know LEA has complex procurement process and it may takes time: based on other existing agreement we have, it will be easy for us to intermediate this activity. Moreover, it might become a partnership opportunity between our company.

Thanks

As was stated by Rami our products are available to official governmental organizations only.

In each of the countries we are present at, in over 70 countries worldwide, we have a local distributor. Both the local distributor and us are bound by agreements not to show, sell or present the product to anyone who is not an official governmental organization.

I am sure you can understand that we cannot and will not sell show or present a unit to you.

If your clients are indeed official governmental organization interested in our product they are welcome to connect our local distributor in their country, if they do not know who the distributor is, they are more than welcome to contact us and we will make the connection.

Sorry we cannot help

Dear Rami,

I am Giancarlo Russo, COO at HackingTeam.

I would like to inform you that our interest in your product is for a LEA client of ours. As you might be aware of, HackingTeam develops and produces a solution exclusively dedicated to Intelligence/LEA and in this case the request to evaluate your product is coming from one of our clients.

I am sure you can understand that at this stage we are not in the position to disclose its name, however we are willing to enter into a confidentiality agreement signing a declaration to confirm you that the product is going to be used exclusively for a technical evaluation and will not be used on third parties devices if not our own and our client testing devices.

I hope this might help in assisting our client request, I remain available for further clarification,

Best regards,

Giancarlo Hi!

I may have been misunderstood.

No letter or any other form of communication will allow us to work with you directly.

We are not looking for partnership.

The only way the LEA you are talking about will get a unit is if they buy direct from our official distributor.

Even if the buy the unit from our distributor they will not be allowed to pass it on to anybody else for whatever reason without our consent.

Thank you Max for your promptly reply.

What if our clients will prepare a letter to you asking for our intermediation in the evaluation process?

As you know LEA has complex procurement process and it may takes time: based on other exisiting agreement we have, it will be easy for us to intermediate this activity. Moreover, it might become a partnership opportunity between our company.

Thanks

Giancarlo Hi!

As was stated by Rami our products are available to official governmental organizations only.

In each of the countries we are present at, in over 70 countries worldwide, we have a local distributor. Both the local distributor and us are bound by agreements not to show, sell or present the product to anyone who is not an official governmental organization.

I am sure you can understand that we cannot and will not sell show or present a unit to you.

If your clients are indeed official governmental organization interested in our product they are welcome to connect our local distributor in their country, if they do not know who the distributor is, they are more than welcome to contact us and we will make the connection.

Sorry we cannot help

Dear Rami,

I am Giancarlo Russo, COO at HackingTeam.

I would like to inform you that our interest in your product is for a LEA client of ours. As you might be aware of, HackingTeam develops and produces a solution exclusively dedicated to Intelligence/LEA and in this case the request to evaluate your product is coming from one of our clients.

I am sure you can understand that at this stage we are not in the position to disclose its name, however we are willing to enter into a confidentiality agreement signing a declaration to confirm you that the product is going to be used exclusively for a technical evaluation and will not be used on third parties devices if not our own and our client testing devices.

I hope this might help in assisting our client request, I remain available for further clarification,

Best regards,

Giancarlo Russo

Dear Rami,

I am Giancarlo Russo, COO at HackingTeam.

I would like to inform you that our interest in your product is for a LEA client of ours. As you might be aware of, HackingTeam develops and produces a solution exclusively dedicated to Intelligence/LEA and in this case the request to evaluate your product is coming from one of our clients.

I am sure you can understand that at this stage we are not in the position to disclose its name, however we are willing to enter into a confidentiality agreement signing a declaration to confirm you that the product is going to be used exclusively for a technical evaluation and will not be used on third parties devices if not our own and our client testing devices.

I hope this might help in assisting our client request, I remain available for further clarification,

Best regards,

Giancarlo Russo

Siamo abbastanza scettici riguardo all'effettivo funzionamento, cio' non di meno abbiamo proceduto con l'ordinarla per poter effettivamente studiarne il comportamento.

Purtroppo il rivenditore non tratta con privati ma solo con LEA, per cui dovremmo chiedere a qualcuno dei nostri clienti di farcela avere.

Qual e' l'iter consigliato in questo caso?

Il sito del produttore e' <http://kailax.pl/index> ed il prezzo si aggira sui 600 euro.
